

TOR's value-added interdisciplinary approach

Introduction

TOR provides town planning, architecture, landscape architecture, urban design and environmental planning services. We have a unique skillset and approach that deals creatively with challenging planning situations to deliver commercially viable solutions across all sectors of the economy.

- 1 Our unique Think Orchestrate Resolve approach to problem solving creates comprehensive, innovative solutions to even the most complex planning challenges. Our team's range of skills in the planning and design professions allows us to work closely as one integrated unit. We collectively examine the strengths and weaknesses of each project to develop the best strategy.
- 2 What sets us apart is how we integrate our disciplines to give clients a bespoke team of experts tailored to meet their project's needs. We have a close relationship with our clients, taking care to listen to them and understand their objectives so that we often exceed their expectations.
- 3 Since our specialisms have worked closely with each other for a number of years, we have developed a more sophisticated and holistic approach. This often allows us to deal easily with issues that might normally halt a project.
- 4 We use our skills and expertise to optimise the assets of any given site, creating a commercial advantage for our clients. Our experience suggests that the early consideration of planning, design and environmental issues together is vital to unlocking the full potential of a site.
- 5 We have a proactive approach to stakeholder engagement and orchestrate planning strategies to maximise the chances of success. We seek to gain the support of local planning authorities and statutory consultees wherever possible and to avoid costly, time consuming and uncertain public inquiries. This type of result is the product of matching a sophisticated technical strategy with equally considered political analysis developed by our interdisciplinary team.
